This year's ARRL International DX Phone Contest was held March 1 – 2, 2025. The next ARRL International DX Phone Contest will be held March 7 – 8, 2026.

As the last qualifying opportunity for the World Radio-sport Team Competition (WRTC) of 2026, testers enjoyed mostly good conditions, productive upper bands, and great overall competition as participants once again joined in the annual DX contest, where worldwide stations work North America and North American stations compete to operate the DX of the world.

Conditions

Band conditions can greatly enhance the experience in amateur radio contests. This year's DX SSB Contest benefited from such conditions, resulting in interesting and sometimes unexpected outcomes.

Although there were some reports of unsettled conditions, overall the bands were great, and it's clear from the scores that good conditions drove many operators to the upper bands, producing large QSO totals on the 10-, 15-, and 20-meter bands and providing a good opportunity for WRTC qualifying point generation.

Participation

There were 4,646 log submissions this year, a decrease of about 500 from last year. The numbers are nearly equal to those from 2023, while still benefiting from improved solar conditions.

Youth Operator Overlay

The Youth Overlay allows younger operators to showcase their talents, and this year was no exception. Levi, K6JO, took his opportunity to operate the ZF1A station on Grand Cayman to another level, not only winning the Youth Overlay, but also the Single Operator, High Power DX category overall!

Another significant youth score came from Europe; Jules, F4IEY, produced a multi-mega point score as a single operator as TM1A at the F6KOP contest station, in pursuit of qualifying points for the 2026 WRTC.

"A huge thank you, as always, to all of the mults that tried to move for me, even if we didn't work. I really appreciate you," said Levi, Youth Category and Single Operator, High Power DX winner.

With operators like these two, the future of contesting is indeed bright! Do you know a younger ham interested in contesting? Help them get on the air and enter the Overlay category.
